

11/1/2019

Race 1

#2 American Sweet Pea- She has a lot of early speed to offer in here and with an inside post she can save a lot of ground early on.

#9 Ideal Delight- Has a giant late closing kick but there are two concerns tonight, the outside post and the pace set in front of her.

#3 Private Performance- She has circled the field several times late but will need fast fractions early on tonight in order to do so.

Race 2

#5 Getting Serious- He showed his class here last week winning wire to wire with ease, two in a row tonight.

#1 Kabu- He has found his back class from last year and has been razor sharp up until last week, respect.

#4 Jenny Lake- She has a ton of early speed off the gate and the short field may keep her in the race until late.

Race 3

#6 Super Betcha- He was razor sharp up until last week with the miscue at the gate, most versatile horse in the field.

#7 Queen For Life- She qualified faster then she raced the last two starts out which only means one thing, she has more to offer.

#1 Come Monday- He will use his inside post to his advantage tonight and could sit on the inside to hold on for minors here.

Race 4

#1 Quick Trot- She made it look easy here last week when she took the drop in class, steps up tonight to prove herself.

#3 Well Spoken Lady- The first start back for the barn she raced in earlier in the year was a success, could be in her best form of the year right now.

#2 Pammy Jo- Does her best work off a helmet late so where she sits at the quarter pole will be key for her late in this mile.

Race 5

#5 Dream On A Roll- She has the only early speed in this field and has hit the ticket in 9 of 17 starts this year, could get the best trip against these.

#2 Fiona- Seems to chase the tempo set in front of her every week but is not a fan of passing the leaders late.

#4 American Jo Jo- Has a brushing move she likes to make near the $\frac{3}{4}$ mile mark and if they bunch up she is the one to watch.

Race 6

#5 Amityville Lindy- Likes to be right up on the lead early and if he makes an easy lead he will wire this field.

#6 Bold Fresh- Found some of his back class here last week against cheaper, has beaten similar earlier in the year.

#4 Schwarber- Has the best late kick in the field and should be flying late in deep stretch against these tonight.

Race 7

#6 Quickcall Bluechip- Raced well when on the lead early a few starts back so he look to be forwardly placed early on tonight.

#7 Keystone Dakota- Likes to race one way and that is up on the pace early, has to be no worse than 2nd at the quarter to have a shot tonight.

#3 Rocknroll Captain- Has hit the board in 11 of 17 starts on the year and it is all credit to his late closing kick.

Race 8

#4 Threedee Delight A- Ships in from Yonkers and takes a big drop in class here, the stretch to a bigger track should help as well.

#1 Rosiemunn- She went a monster mile here last week only to be beaten a neck on the wire, inside post helps her tonight.

#5 Blameitonthenight- She has found her better form in her last two starts and her versatility has showed as well.

Race 9

#1 Milady Denver A- She has not had much of a chance her last few starts facing much tougher, drop in class puts her in the winners circle tonight.

#3 JL Wonder Woman- Races well up near the pace early on and will be dependent upon fractions early on tonight.

#6 Artic Belle- She crushed last week with a last quarter of 28.4, putting up back to back solid efforts has been a problem with her thus far.

Race 10

#6 Art Angel Baby- She has been rock solid in her last 5 starts over the track, and until she runs worse than 2nd she has to be respected.

#5 Unusual Clarity- She likes to make a sweeping move late in the mile and the faster they go early on the better of she will be.

#1 Classic Can Dream- Has hit the board 16 of 36 starts on the year and the inside post plays to her racing style.

Race 11

#4 Steuben Warlock- The stretch to a bigger track helped him last out and if he minds his manners he should win 2 in a row here.

#3 Ampersand- Was not himself here last week as he was gapped most of the mile, has much more to offer.

#2 So It Goes Hanover- Has a late closing kick to offer if they bunch up late and has back class from Hoosier earlier in the year.

Race 12

#5 Ideal Patriot- She brushed and crushed here last week and with a short field she should do the same again tonight.

#4 Im On Schedule- Her best chance here is to get near the pace early on and try to make one quick move late to steal the show.

#2 Tenwillgetutwenty- Has been 3rd 6 times this year and an inside post keeps her in this one late as she puts her best foot forward the last quarter.

Race 13

#5 Little Dave- He knows how to sustain his bid late, position near the front end would be ideal for him to get the win against these.

#4 Pink Cotton- She has the best late kick of these but the pace will have to be quick early on for her to get the best of them late.

#3 Pumping Irony- Faces the weakest field she has seen all year tonight and has to find her back class in order to win.
