

Risi Racing Review...

11/03/2018

Race 1

#3 Jersey Boy- Has the best late kick in the field and is deadly off a covered-up trip late in the stretch.

#4 Whizzer Hanover- Flashed a last quarter of 28.2 and if he minds his manners he is a sure threat here.

#1 Some Royalty- Has been heavily bet the last 3 weeks and has won 1/3 of her starts on the year.

Race 2

#5 Haloman- Likes to be on the lead early and with a short field tonight he can back the fractions down early.

#2 Funny Photo- Might be the most consistent horse in the field and makes just his 10th start of the year tonight.

#3 Upto A Dream- They are only going 7/8 of a mile tonight and with his early speed he should be able to hold on for minors.

Race 3

#3 Brookdale Bruiser- Was razor sharp prior to the scratch sick and after last week should be much better tonight.

#6 Napper Tandy- Has a furious late closing kick and if they go fast early on he will be flying late.

#5 Banacek- Always makes a solid effort pulling past the half and has not been worse than 3rd his last 5 starts out.

Race 4

#7 Ozymandias- Makes the 2nd start out tonight for the new connections and was sharp in victory at Saratoga last out.

#4 Six Bax- Big gaited 9 year has lots of back class and takes a serious drop in class tonight.

#3 Painite- Has hit the board in 17 of 31 starts on the year and does her best work from off the pace late.

Race 5

#5 Fcee N- Qualified well here for the new connections but take a look at the last quarter he flashed there and he looks deadly.

#3 Serious Major- Was the even money favorite last week in the same class and should be close again tonight.

#4 Weapon To Win- Has hit the ticket in an amazing 24 of 38 starts this year and is very versatile as well.

Race 6

#6 Machmemackie- Has lots of early speed and with the 7/8 mile distance here he is the one to catch.

#1 Giacodelight- Takes a step up in class tonight which should not bother him off a sharp victory last week.

#4 The Royal Garden N- Made a nice late effort last week in slop to get the job done and will be the late closer again here.

Race 7

#7 Tundra- Might be the most versatile horse of the group and his post position tonight plays a factor whether he beats these.

#1 Sunshinesomewhere- Has lots of early gate speed and if he can dig in late he has to be considered against these.

#8 Fashion Dragon- Looks like he didn't like the slop last week but the 2 efforts prior he was sharp.

Race 8

#6 Dragon Fever- Returns to the barn here at Vernon that he was previously in and has more class than most in here.

#5 A Good Time To Rock- Has monster early gate speed and if he gets soft fractions early he is going to be tough to get too late.

#2 Sea Harrier- Will be the late closer against these and with an inside post he won't have to work very hard for position early.

Race 9

#6 Blended Whiskey- Winner of over 41 races lifetime knows how to get the job done and does his best work from off the pace.

#2 Lucky Man- May be a slight longshot in this field but faced much tougher at Meadowlands last week which helps.

#4 Cascata- Had no shot last week with the outside post but the week prior he showed his class.

Race 10

#6 Golden Gun- Has been on fire the last 3 starts out and there only shot to beat him is battle with him early on.

#4 Oh My Joepa- Beat this company handily earlier in the year and just needs to find his late kick to be close.

#3 I Am Golden- Might have not liked the sloppy track last week but has hit the board in 27 of 40 starts this year.

Race 11

#5 Somelucksomerock- Made a huge rally his last start out and if they bunch up he will put the swoop to the group late.

#7 Scholz- Looks like he has found his best form his last 2 starts out and loves a pocket ride to the top of the stretch.

#8 Schwarzkopf- Makes the first start out tonight for the new connections and already has a mark here for the year of 154.3.

Race 12

#5 She's Even Hotter- Takes a major drop in class tonight and should best these on class alone.

#3 White Mountain Top- Flashed big early gate speed several times this year and makes the first start for the new barn here.

#1 Little TJ- Liked the stretch to a bigger track here last week and may be coming late for minors again tonight.
