Race 1

#1 Gobi Princess- Only seems to race well over a bigger track and if they bunch up late she has the best late kick of them all.

#3 Amanda Blue Chip- Likes to be right up in the front end early on and already has a mark for the year of 156.1 over a smaller track.

#4 Avalonia- Has struggled over the smaller tracks as of late and I am thinking she will be much better over a bigger track tonight.

Race 2

#4 Carbon Capture- She makes one quick move to the front when she wins and in a short field that will make it even easier on her.

#3 Boogie Roll- Likes to come from off the pace late so a 2nd over trip turning for home would be ideal here tonight.

#2 Heavens Challenge- Has hit the board in 6 of 12 starts this year and has already earned over 55K, good resume.

Race 3

#4 Sgt Papa Daddy- Dropped down against cheaper last out and won with ease, if it built his confidence he can win again tonight.

#5 Daliocity- I expect him to be forwardly placed early on tonight and if the fractions are slow early he will be in the ticket.

#2 Unusual Clarity- Returns to his stomping grounds after facing tougher as of late at Saratoga and Batvia, price play in here.

Race 4

#8 JDS Brent N Sheree- Likes to leave the gate fast early on and was sharp here two starts back from almost an identical post.

#4 Card Knock Life- He takes a slight step up in class tonight after being a good 2nd to an Open pacer here last week, finding his better form.

#6 Regal Escape- Always makes a giant sweeping move off the far turn but if he is too far back he will only be able to get up for minors.

Race 5

#3 Jet Rock- Was facing tough NY Excelsior company not long ago and rallied big last week to get up for 2nd at the wire.

#8 Winston- Has a giant mark last year at Tioga of 150.1 and qualified recently like he has found his better form once again.

#1 Rock To Glory- Has been sharp as of late at Batavia but the real question is whether or not he will like a bigger track.

Race 6

#4 Genius Man- The fact that he dug in his last two starts after having a rough trip gives him the advantage coming into tonight.

#1 Linus- Makes the first start out for the new barn here tonight and has only made 7 lifetime start thus far, room to improve.

#2A Teton Sunset- Raced well here not long ago against tougher but tends to want to chase the pace in front of him late.

Race 7

#4 Fashion Hill- Has not been worse than 3rd in 3 lifetime starts and races for a barn who tends to do very well in stakes action here at Vernon.

#2 Bolt Of Beauty- Ripped off a last quarter of 26.4 in his last start out here and draws a perfect post to grab position with tonight.
#1 Dragon Roll- Could be much faster than she looks on paper as she has had trouble getting through the turns on smaller tracks.

Race 8

#1 Skyway Kon Man- If you watched him race over a smaller track you would be able to see he is not comfortable, will be much better over the bigger track tonight.
#4 Brady Bunch- Has been sensational in 2019 with 5 starts and not being worse than 2nd in all 5, will be right up near the lead early on.
#8 Whimzical Chapter- Got the job done against cheaper here last out and the only concern tonight is the far outside post.

Race 9

#1 Covered Bridge- Has made it look east winning both of his starts here at Vernon and both times he looked like he had more to offer.
#7 Bro- Has been razor sharp as of late at Pocono and has already hit the board in 9 of 13 starts this year, impressive in his last 3.
#5 Respect Our Flag- Has a lot of late kick to offer in a field with a lot of early speed, keep your eye on him as he may be flying late.

Race 10

#1 R Herbie Blue Chip- Races for a barn who does great with young trotters and qualified at Harrah's not long ago looking great.
#6 Discus Hanover- Has won 10 of 13 starts already this year but will face a tough test tonight and has a far outside post as well.
#2A Mid Chapter- Has only made 3 starts this year and has time to improve but may only be fast enough to get up for minors against these.

Race 11

#3 Charlotte Chaplin- Has won her last two starts here with ease and is ready for her toughest test yet in a long time here tonight.
#2 No Mas Drama- Races well over a bigger track as she has late kick but struggles with breaking issues, inside post helps a lot.
#8 Destiny Blue Chip- Comes in off a scratch sick but has hit the board in 3 of 5 lifetime starts thus far, outside post is the only concern here.
